The Clery Act requires institutions to collect and disclose certain crimes reported on campus. The information is largely collected by campus law enforcement; however, in accordance with the UC Clery Policy and the Clery Act, UCR is also required to collect information from other mandated crime reporters – Campus Security Authorities (CSAs).

In addition to the UCR Police Department, the following are also considered CSAs:

- Individuals with Campus Security Responsibility: For example, parking information kiosk operators, parking enforcement staff, bicycle patrol staff, campus safety escort staff, and campus security staff for events held at campus theaters and spectator athletic events held in campus facilities.

- Officials with Significant Responsibility for Student and Campus Activities: Campus officials who manage or otherwise oversee student and campus activities, for example, staff responsible for campus student housing, a student center, or student extra-curricular activities; a director of athletics or a team coach; faculty advisors to student groups; staff responsible for student discipline, and campus judicial staff.

- Other Designated Individuals: Any individual or organization identified in the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report or other campus policies as an individual or organization to which students and employees should report criminal offenses. The Title IX Officers is an example of this type of CSA.

A few tips on how to IDENTIFY CSA:

- Critically review the position description and determine if it falls under the abovementioned definitions in full or partially; identify the role as CSA even if it has some responsibilities falling under the definitions.
- CSA role can be assigned to any member of UCR community – staff and academic employees, student employees, volunteers, contingent workers and others who fit one of the three CSA designations above. (Note: This may include Resident Assistants, Student Organization/Club Advisors, Faculty-Led Education Abroad Programs, Safety Escorts, School of Medicine Advisors.)
- Excluded from CSA responsibilities (not meeting the criteria for being CSA) typically are lecturers, instructors and faculty member who do not have any responsibility for student and campus activity beyond the classroom, clerical or cafeteria staff, facility maintenance and similar jobs.
